

Burnside Still Trial Continues

New York, Dec. 15 (Special)—The trial of the five men alleged to have operated a 750-gallon still on the Frank B. Horton farm, Burnside, went into its second day today before Judge William Bondy in Federal Court here.

Leo Tabacchi of Rosendale, who pleaded guilty just before the trial began, was called as a witness today by Assistant United States Attorney Nicholas D. Rogers. Other defendants are Frank B. Horton, Burnside, Raymond C. Horton, also Burnside, John Nelson, Kingston, Melvin Simmons, Pine Bush, and Clarence Penner, Campbell Hall.

Tabacchi told the court that he had been hired to do general work about the place and did not know what kind of a business it was. He said he had been there only a short time when the place was raided. His knowledge of the still was so meagre that he was unable to identify pictures of the place.

Judge Bondy put the witness through an exhaustive examination, much to the vexation of the three defense attorneys, who attempted by objecting to the court's questions, to end the examination. The judge drew from Tabacchi the statement that he had not met the other defendants until the night of their arrest.

Also to testify were two government agents, Michael A. Heardon and Joseph Brown, who participated in the raid. They told nearly identical stories. They said they had been patrolling the vicinity of Burnside when they were attracted to the Horton farm by the obvious odor of mash.

They approached the place cautiously, after having parked their car about half a mile away. After watching the place for several hours and observing a truck enter, they raided the place simultaneously from several directions. They caught two of the defendants, they said, unloading barrels of molasses from the truck to the still. Others were inside the barn, tending the still.

Another witness, Frank Mahar, also a federal agent, said he questioned Frank Horton shortly after the raid and learned from him that the barn had been rented to a man whose name he could not recall. He told him, said Mahar, that he did not know a still was in the place.

The case will go on tomorrow.

America's finest since 1840

SINCE 1840, Peter Ballantine's 3 rings—"one ring for PUR-R-R-ITY, a second for BODY, a third for FLAVOR-R-R"—have been the traditional mark of excellence in ale.

Now the pick of the lads who draw your ale are wearing the 3-Ring Emblem as a mark of their special knowledge of brews—just as, in fine restaurants, the keeper of the wine cellar wears a key as his emblem of office, signifying his special knowledge of vintages.

It's a good place where you see the 3 rings. It's a good man who wears them. He knows also from the ground up, and you can trust his judgment. Look for the 3 rings of quality—

Planes Searching For Big Airliner in Utah, Seven Aboard

Salt Lake City, Dec. 16 (AP).—Searching planes droned overhead and land parties combed snow-drifted mountain wilds today, seeking a big airliner lost more than 24 hours with five men and two women.

"It looks bad," admitted Frank Eastman, western air station manager here. He added: "We're praying for clear weather."

The second day's hunt centered near here for the Western Air Express Transport and its occupants—one a pretty blonde stewardess who dodged the altar to keep her job; another a bride of only a few days.

The 10-passenger, twin-motored Boeing last was heard from at 3:27 a. m. mountain time, Tuesday when its pilot, S. J. Samson, radioed his position over the southwestern Utah village of Milford.

However, word from a score of early-risers in the vicinity of Tiny Alpine, 25 miles southeast of here, that they heard a plane in distress, led to concentration of the hunt in that region on the western slopes of the Wasatch mountains.

The plane left Los Angeles at 11:15 p. m. Pacific time, Monday night and was due in Utah's mountain-ringed capital at 4:10 a. m. Pacific time, Tuesday.

Mingling with the craft were the stewardess, Gladys Witt; Pilot Samson, Co-Pilot William Bogen, and the passengers, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe of Chicago; H. W. Edwards of Minneapolis and C. Christopher of Dwight, Ill.

B. G. Mitchell of Los Angeles, a passenger who disembarked at Las Vegas, Nevada, told of finding 26-year-old Miss Witt "most charming and attentive," but silent on the romantic aeronautical mixup which made her a headline celebrity.

The blonde stewardess recently was on the verge of marrying Erick K. Balser, steamship executive, in California. Then she suddenly flew east to "talk things over" with Pilot James A. Roe of Transcontinental and Western Air at Kansas City.

She "talked things over" with both men, wound up by marrying neither—and got back her old job.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe were married several days ago in San Diego and were on their way to Chicago, Wolfe's headquarters as an air equipment salesman. Mrs. Wolfe was a stenographer for four years in an air line office at Seattle.

While concentrating in the vicinity north of 12,000-foot Mt. Timpanogos, monarch of the Wasatch, searchers did not overlook a possibility the plane may have veered westward.

A resident of St. John, at the base of the snow-crowned Ogilvie mountains 50 miles west of Alpine, reported a "red glow" high upon the ridges.

Airline officials cling to hope the transport had come down safely in some isolated spot, that the four passengers and crew of three had found safety in a ranch-house. The plane was stocked with chicken dinners, cocoa, coffee, tea, blankets, pillows and first aid supplies.

every description. Just a sight of this fairytale would cause the heart of every child to leap with joy.

The finished toys give a vivid idea of the vast amount of work that has been done in this labor of love on the part of the willing workers who have willingly contributed of their time and labor to the project.

In one corner of the basement is a heap of the most disreputable toys seen in ages. To glance at the heap of old and worn out toys one would hardly believe that it was possible to transform them into toys of beauty to delight a child. Trains, dolls, baby carriages, sleds, bicycles and other toys are on display, showing the finished workmanship of those who have contributed their services.

Back of every toy lies an interesting story. Just to look at the toys contributed and the visitor simply has to close his or her eyes and recall the days when they went Christmas shopping for loved ones who have long since grown up and now have families of their own. But not by any means are all of the toys so ancient for here may be seen the toys that hung from the Christmas trees of last year, and needed but little work to make them again bright and shiny.

It is planned to start moving the toys from the Central Fire Station to the municipal auditorium on Saturday, and Monday morning groups of women from the various P. T. A. Associations of the city plan to start the work of packing the Christmas bags.

It is expected that the $1,500 needed in cash will also be in the hands of the Christmas committee by Saturday. Those who intend to contribute should do so at once as the money is badly needed.

feared had gripped him, but also because he complained of headaches and earaches.

Communities, social and political leaders, eager not to be regarded "fair weather friends," showed their solicitude.

Mass invitations showered in on the melancholy, brooding duke and only a few of the messages for him were of "old castles for sale."

One heartfelt invitation, reputedly from the former Regent Paul of Yugoslavia, urged Windsor to "come down and forget," and mentioned several excellent hideaways.

Other invitations came also from sympathetic members of Greek and Hungarian aristocracy. His Austrian friends, however, seemed determined to keep him.

The Rathskilds usually leave for Paris after the Christmas holidays but it was reported authoritatively that Edward was considering their invitation to remain in an Enzelsfeld and make it his headquarters—from which to make excursions—for as long as he likes.

Will Break Tedium
Cannes, France, Dec. 16 (AP).—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson's hosts, finding it impossible to spare her from public curiosity, arranged today to break the tedium of her solitude in their villa.

Mrs. Simpson, members of the household said, probably would not be seen outside the hill-top villa, Lou Viei, of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers of New York for two weeks.

When she ventured into town yesterday, it was necessary to call detectives to disperse crowds which surrounded the fashionable shop where she bought handkerchiefs, hosiery and gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers prepared a calendar of entertainments to help Mrs. Simpson while away the lonely hours until, eventually, she may go to meet the man who gave up his throne to wed her.

The Cannes telephone exchange disclosed that former King Edward and the American-born woman speak frequently by long-distance, with a special operator to handle their calls and make sure their conversations are not overheard by eavesdroppers.

Discreet Friends Invited
A number of discreet friends were understood already to have been invited to the villa for teas and bridge parties to enliven Mrs. Simpson's days. Michael Arlen, the novelist who is a friend and neighbor on the Riviera, was to be among the guests.

Mrs. D. B. Merriman of Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Simpson's "Aunt Beattie" and one of her closest confidantes—was expected from London.

Police Commissaire Jean Roure, a member of the special division of the Surete Nationale assigned to guard France's president, Albert Lebrun, visiting sovereigns and other dignitaries, was withdrawn from Villa Lou Viei. He had been in charge of the guards protecting Mrs. Simpson since her arrival just before Edward quit his throne.

A squad of Surete detectives remained, however, working in two-man relays to post a constant watch around the estate. Officials said they would be there as long as Mrs. Simpson was.

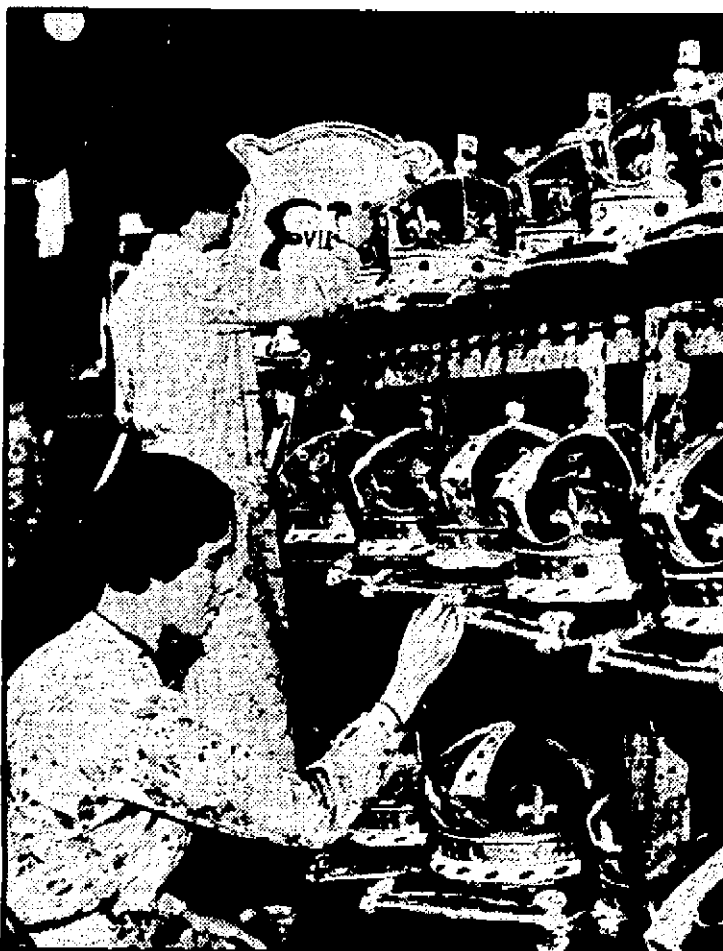

Whether Mrs. Simpson would stay until her decree nisi divorce from Ernest Aldrich Simpson becomes effective next April was not known, but Rogers said he knew nothing of rumors she intended to visit the Archduchess Helena of Rumania or anyone else.

When his dog and a coyote it was fighting fell into a creek, Oiaf Segien of El Dorado, Kas., waded into the water and killed the coyote with a club.

EDWARD AS AUTHOR.

Edward Winslow, Ex-Rex Etc., needn't lack for living funds, even if he is losing his royal salary and some of his duchies and castles and palaces and miscellaneous perquisites.
He can make all the money he needs by writing. Before he was sworn out of office, an American publisher was credited with having offered him $1,000,000 flat for his memoirs. Rival bids for his literary services are expected to bring "the battle of the century" among publishers, editors and newspaper syn-dicates.

Not that Edward is supposed to be any world-beater in this line. He has never shown any particular literary inclinations, either as a reader
or writer. He may have read an occasional book and written an occasional report or speech, but he is the type of person who learns direct from life and prefers the spoken to the written word.

This type, however, if intelligent as Edward is, usually gets more experience, makes more human contacts and has a closer grip on life than the more studious fellows. And anyway, as most people probably know by this time, it doesn't take literary talent for the productions expected of Edward. Whoever has
as much to tell as he has can easily
find "ghost writers" to put it on paper. Edward may surprise people, though, by refusing to tell it—at least for the present. He has pride,
self-respect and a sense of propriety
in such matters.

BUSH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

A poll by the American Institute
of Public Opinion, claiming to represent an accurate cross-section of the country, has made the surprising announcement that 56 per cent of the American people today want
North and South America to form
"their own League of Nations". This poll was taken, too, before the peace conference at Buenos Aires, with its strong propaganda effect, had really got under way.

Observers of public opinion have realized the growing sentiment for Pan-American cooperation, but few would have supposed the public would speak so clearly as this. The very term "league of nations" has long been unpopular with a large section of our people.

An all-American league, to be sure, would be a different thing from the Geneva institution, with which we are now informally cooperating,
in various ways. We would probably dominate such a league, whether we tried to or not, because of our wealth, population and prestige. We could probably stand it, if the smaller nations could. And some closer organization will probably
emerge from the present conference,
with the astonishing unanimity it has shown so far. It seems unlikely,
though, that we shall have anything
called a "league of nations" or closely resembling the Geneva League.

ONE BENEFIT OF AUTOCRACY

The biggest thing that remains to be done in this country, as is noted
by George L. Berry, federal industry coordinator, is the elimination of unemployment. The Council for Industrial Progress tackles the problem this week at Washington. The conference's aim, says Mr. Berry, is
"to stabilize industry as to make almost impossible the return of such tragic conditions of industrial depression as came from the lack of cooperation among industrial groups,
between industry and labor and between industry and the government,
prior to 1929."

Much has been done since that date to remedy the defect, but much will remain to be done before industry moves along steadily with a job for everybody. Here, we must admit, is one respect in which autocracy seems to have the advantage of democracy. In Russia, in Germany, in Italy, there seems to be no unemployment. People may be working on war jobs—but they are working. Democracy, superior in almost every other way, must vindicate

itself by providing constructive
employment for all who need it.

ARTISTIC CLASS ROOMS.

Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve of Barnard College pleads for "beauty
in class rooms." She does not mean pretty teachers, handsome professors or even good-looking students. She means class rooms attractive enough
to offer "food for the spirit and a greater stimulus to learning."

It is curious, as she points out,
that college courses have been enlarged to include beauty—modelling,
sketching, dancing, music, etc.—
buildings and campuses have been designed for beauty and esthetic value. Even administrative offices and dormitories receive decorative attention. Only class rooms have remained ugly, cold and cheerless.
There doesn't seem to be any real objection to her proposal that they,
too, embody the best in architecture
and decoration. Beautiful rooms
are an inspiration anywhere.

INFORMATION, NOT DICTATION.

One of the post-election arguments not yet settled concerns the influence of the daily newspaper.
Because the majority vote did not follow the majority editorial opinion,
the hasty conclusion has been drawn
by some observers that the papers
have no influence with their readers.
As a matter of fact, that isn't true,
but if it were true the newspapers
might have company in their humility. Final figures prepared by the principal broadcasting chains suggest that the radio doesn't influence
the public much, either.

Fortunately the public doesn't have to give up either its newspaper or its radios. It wants both—for news, education, information, entertainment. Obviously it doesn't want either as dictator of its opinions.

LIVER EXTRACT.

The liver has always been, in the opinion of most physicians, the real
"king" of the organs because of its
many important uses—clearing poisons from the blood, manufacturing
bile which is Nature's purgative,
helping to make materials for the blood, turning starch into sugar so that it can be readily absorbed into
the blood, and storing sugar away
within itself for future use.

Then when Drs. Minot and Murphy, Boston, were able to show that the use of liver (calf, cow, lamb,
pig) would actually cure that formerly incurable ailment, pernicious
anemia, it seemed that the importance of a normal or healthy liver
to health and life gave the liver a still greater right to be called the
"king of the organs."

But just as insulin, now used to keep diabetics alive, has been found
useful in other defects of the body,
so further uses of liver and liver extracts have been found by research physicians.

In the Polyclinic, Dr. D. Bolognese
reports that he has injected several proprietary (made by various manufacturers) liver extracts in various affections with the following results:

In the first and second stages of inflammation of the kidneys there were marked results in increasing
the output of urine and salts, a lessening of swelling of the feet and
body weight, fall of blood pressure,
and improvement in getting rid of excess water in the body.

In chronic inflammation of the liver itself with hardening, if not in a too advanced stage, there might be marked increase in getting rid of water and salts.

The patients frequently showed
an improvement in their general
state, digestion, ability to sleep, and hemorrhages.

There was sometimes an improvement in jaundice.

There were little or no bad or toxic effects from the use of liver
extracts, even when large doses
were used for several days.

The point then is that a healthy liver not only does all its regular jobs in the body, but helps to regulate and prevent ailments within itself and other organs.

And, as mentioned before, you can keep your liver in good working shape by two simple habits (as not overeating, especially of fat and starch foods, and (2) regular bowing or liver squeezing exercises such as bending sideways, backwards and forwards, knees kept straight.

Wings For Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

SYNOPSIS: Philip Page, dark, serious young publisher of the Warrenton Courier, campaigns
for better living conditions and back the workmen of the Morris mill in their fight for better homes. He falls in love with the attractive Sally Warren, the society editor who can't forget her former fiancé. Sally is staying with wealthy Mary Morris who pursues Philip despite her father's bitterness. Philip is a detective employed by Mr. Morris,
is trying to bring a theater
fire on McDonald, a discharged
mill worker whom Philip is helping.

Chapter 33
Lunch With Giles

SALLY had thought that it would be hard to face Giles Benton the next day. But when he came to get her, she found herself tingling with excitement at the prospect of lunching with him. He had played a game with her, and until now he had enjoyed all the advantages because she had known nothing about him. Now
she knew him, knew his purpose, and his resolves to defeat it.

Giles Benton took her to the dining room of the Lanier hotel, where Terry had liked to take her when he had the money. Sally suffered a momentary pang of memory as she and Giles passed the table where she and Terry had liked to sit. But soon the game of conversation with Giles
blotted out everything else.

"I shan't be here much longer, I'm afraid," Giles said regretfully. "My work is almost finished."

"I suppose you'll be glad to go,"
murmured Sally. "It's very hot here
this time of year."

"I've formed some very pleasant
and some very valuable connections
here," said Giles. "I'm very grateful to you for showing me the town."

Then he added carelessly. "There's one place you didn't take me."
"Where is that?" asked Sally.

"To Milltown. I understand you're very well acquainted with the place.
Mary tells me you took her there to see some friends of yours—the Mc-Donalds."

"Oh, yes, I know the McDonalds,"
said Sally. "I didn't take you to Milltown because I knew you were pretty well informed about that part of town."

"You knew that?" Giles studied her face, as if he were trying to fathom
just how much she knew. "How should I be informed about Milltown?"

"Since you are trying to improve the factory methods, I supposed you'd have to look into Milltown pretty thoroughly to get a whole picture of the situation."

"Very clever of you," said Giles,
smiling and showing his white teeth.
"But I am interested in the Mc-Donalds. Mary tells me she has seen them. I suppose the reason McDonald was in the drive that night is easily
explainable—he came to thank Mary."

Sally said nothing. Should she admit that she recognized McDonald?
To ignore the remark was a tacit
confession that she had recognized him.

"You did recognize McDonald, didn't you?" asked Giles. "You didn't say so at the time."

"I barely caught a glimpse of the man," said Sally truthfully. "I should hesitate to say who he was. Is it important?"

"It may be," said Giles. "To our friends, the Morrises."

"And to you," added Sally boldly.
"To me, also," said Giles.

"I'm sorry I can't be more helpful
about that," said Sally. "But now I must go. I'm more than used up by half hour for lunch."

"It has been a great pleasure,"
bowed Giles.

"McDonald's Arrested"

SALLY entered the big office to find
it buzzing with talk. Lola Hopkins,
the girl reporter, greeted Sally with
the news.

"McDonald's been arrested for setting fire to the Palace theater. They've set him bail at high there's not a chance of getting him out."

"But he—he was here in the office
last night," said Sally weakly.

"They got him this morning. Took him from home, too, so there's no chance of keeping it from May. May's going to the hospital tomorrow—
knowing her husband's in jail."

"Surely there's somebody who can get him out," said Sally.

"The boss would if he could," said
Lola. "He's hot about the collar over this, I can tell you. But I guess the only man in town who could get Mc-Donald's out is Joe Morris. And Morris is a man that's got McDonald's under his thumb."

not get in until
he opened the

he did at once.

"I'm sorry to
disturb you,
caw, caw, caw," cawed Christopher. "But I
knew the others would not be here
now and I had some very im-

you."

"The others are making some stew or some soup, or a mixture of both, for you. At least Willy Nilly is making it, and the others
are giving advice and suggestions.
I'm not disturbing you, am I?"

"Oh, no," Santa answered. "I'll go right on working and talking
at the same time."

"Well, caw, caw, caw," said Christopher. "I might say I have only one question to ask—or perhaps several which all amount to the same thing."

"Yes," returned Santa.
"I want to know," said Christopher. "If someone who has been very mischievous, even bad, would be punished by you and not have any Christmas at all?"

"You've not been up to any mischief, have you, Christopher?"
Santa's blue eyes twinkled.

"No," said Christopher. "I haven't, and that's the truth. But as I've flown around the countryside I've heard parents say: 'If you're not good, Santa Claus won't come to visit you. Just how bad would anyone have to be for you to stay away, or how good
must they be for you to have them
on your certain list?'"

TALKS TO PARENTS

Colleges And Thinking

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Education—especially the college variety—should first and foremost teach people how to think.
At first, of course, one must have a certain number of facts on which to base one's thinking, and these
the primary and preparatory schools should teach. By the time
a boy or girl goes to college, he should be able to start a little research and do a little thinking
of his own.

From then on, the function of the college is to guide and encourage his individual thinking
and his search for truth. Today,
however, the colleges complain,
and rightly, that thinking is out of date. All that the bright young things who through the seats of higher learning want is pre-digested facts. These they will jot down at the dictation of some bored instructor and glibly recite back to him next day. They are not thinking, merely photograph-
ing.

The fault lies not so much in the schools and colleges as in the parents. Half the parents in America do not stop to think or else
are uninformed as to what the purpose of college is. Mr. Brown,
who has never been to college,
looks upon it as an open sesame to obtaining wealth and ease. To Mrs.
Smith it is a chance for her daughter's social advancement.

Mr. Jones, who is himself a college
alumnus and should know better,
wants a place to park his son until
he is old enough to go into business.

Such parents by their false and mistaken ideals and ambitions are degrading and perverting the standards of the colleges. Unfortunately they are able to do so,
since the colleges must have money
for existence and depend for their income chiefly on alumni and parents of the students.

Uncle Ab says sowing seeds while young will keep you from needs in old age.

Horses need exercise and good
care in winter; let them out to exercise occasionally, and feed them
some grain and hay.

As a substitute for chestnut, horn-
lock is recommended as the best native tree to plant for use in rough construction work on the farm.

Based on yearly average costs, it costs more to produce 100 pounds of milk in fall and winter months than
during spring and summer months.

Modernization of farm buildings,
development of better equipment for family-size farms, and more widespread interest in irrigation are among the trends in agricultural engineering.

Hints to trappers are given in Cornell bulletin 12219 "The Fur-Rearers of New York in Their Relation to Agriculture." Single copies are available free from the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, New York.

A Washington Daybook

By FREDSON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The senate has made the makings of a filibuster
even before it has met.

It lies in the same group that repeatedly threatened such a course
last session but never carried it
out—the Nye-Clark-Bone group.
The subject also is the same. They want a more drastic neutrality act
than was written last session and
the session before.

Now talk of a filibuster this early, six months or more before
the probable end of a congress
that has yet to convene, may sound fantastic. But there are "angles." On January 31 the reconstruction finance corporation
lapses. A day ahead of that, Jan.
30, the President's power further
to devalue the currency expires.

Last Act Stopped

THOSE are important deadlines.
They are not entirely satisfactory deadlines against which to conduct a filibuster. But senators who want to put pressure behind
some legislation may be willing to risk the displeasure they might encounter from discommoding the administration by permitting
some of its important functions
to lapse for a time.

"I think the most important thing before the country is the enactment of a permanent neutrality law," said Senator Clark.
"I am satisfied there are a great number of senators of whom I am
one who will actively push the question to the floor for the very earliest consideration in the new congress."

Last session the neutrality act

proposed by Clark and his munitions
committee associates was boiled down in foreign relations committee and parts of it were sliced off by department department. Clark and his associates wanted, and did not get,
an outright embargo on credit to warring nations, in addition to an embargo on munitions and war
materials, which they got, they sought unsuccessfully an embargo
on food or other commodities sustaining a war. They wanted, and did not get, a provision that Americans touring or trading in danger zones should be warned to get out and should be left without protection if they failed to get out.

Holds Drastic Law Needed
DRASTIC wants, are those, and
there is much senate opposition,
particularly against the last
one, on the grounds that American traders should be protected
wherever in the world they wished to carry the American flag.

Clark thinks enough is happening in the world to make very clear now that more drastic neutrality legislation is needed.

However, Senators Borah
and Johnson, principal critics last session of the proposal to withdraw protection during war time from adventurous traders, are still in the senate.

Nothing in the neutrality agreement proposed by Secretary Hull
at Buenos Aires would interfere with the United States going as far as it likes in its trade or monetary embargoes against non-
American nations.

The next meeting of the executive board of the County Union will be home of the Rev. Cornelius Mueyskens at Gardiner.

Christmas Party Successful

The County Christmas party that was held at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church last Friday evening was a success despite the short notice
which was given for its presentation.
About 75 Endeavorers assembled to enjoy a very pleasant evening of games and renewing of acquaintances. Edna Holmster and Harold Candell took charge of the entertainment; Betty Heaps furnished the music, and Donald H. Smith led the devotional program.

The Last Class

Friday evening the Zena Endeavorers will have their last class in the seven weeks' Bible study that has been going on under the direction of the Rev. A. Walter Baker of the Woodstock Lutheran Church. The topic for this final meeting will be
"Paul, the Martyr." This will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock and an invitation is extended to all who wish to attend.

Comforter Activities

The Comforters, or "Quilts" as they are sometimes called, are so
"wet blankets" when it comes to enthusiasm. Sunday evening they turned out $3 strong to listen to the Rev. Cornelius Mueyskens talk on
"Youth and the Church." Claude Haines was the leader of the meeting. Friday evening they will hold their annual Christmas party and business session, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Next Sunday this group will present a Christmas pageant, entitled "What Child Is This."
The general public is cordially invited to attend this service which has been arranged by Beatrice Powley.
Plans for the annual play to be given
some time after the first of the year
are also under way.

Flatbush Lecture

The Flatbush society listened to an illustrated lecture last Sunday evening entitled "At Home and Abroad," with the Rev. Stephen W. Ryder of Flatbush in the capacity of lecturer.
This topic was in connection with the "Greater Things Program" of the Reformed Church in America; a program which has formed the basis
for the Flatbush meetings for some time past.

Last Sunday evening the Junior Society of the Ponchaque Congregational Church presented a Christianity service which proved very successful. This society has been organized only two months,
and this special Christmas service was the first attempt at group work. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Mc-Ginnis and Miss Kellerman great progress is expected in the Junior division of Christian Endeavor work in this church.

Just A Year Ago Today...

(Taken from the files of The Freeman.)

Caleb Milne, 6th, son of Mrs.
Frederick Milne of Woodstock,
N. Y., is feared kidnapped. Milne
was well known in Woodstock, having appeared in Mary-
leik summer theatre production.

James Talmadge, governor of

Adonai Lodge Held Election

Highland, Dec. 16.—The annual election of officers of Adonai Lodge, No. 718, F. & A. M., took place at the regular communication Monday evening when Dr. Carl F. Meekin was elected master; Matthew Busch, senior warden; Jacob J. Donovan, junior warden; Charles L. DuBois, treasurer; Loren C. Osterhoudt, secretary. The balance of the officers will be appointed later by the incoming master. The installation of officers will take place at the communication on January 11, 1937. At the meeting on December 28 the third degree will be conferred upon two candidates. There was a good attendance at this meeting.

P. T. A. Meeting Held on Monday

Highland, Dec. 16.—Ledyard Ball spoke for the Lions Club at the meeting of the Highland Parent-Teacher Association at the meeting Monday evening, for the great need for toys and clothing.

The club has been sponsoring this at Christmas for the past few years and the response this year has been light, with no clothing given so far. Mr. Ball appealed for contributions and that if notified such articles would be called for. The report on safety, which at the present time included a safe place for children to coast and ski, was given both by Mr. Ball and Miss Frances Williams. They quoted Walter R. Seaman who was contesting the owners of the property living west of the Bridge Circle. Miss Williams said there was no road within town limits that could be closed without an inconvenience to the people living along it and this property afforded a hill that would be suitable. It might be necessary to spend some $20 to $30 in preparing such a place. It was also said that a representative of an insurance company would be consulted relative to carrying insurance for any child who might be injured.

Miss Ruth Goldsmith of the committee composed of Mrs. Frank Simpson, Mrs. Eugene Ossie, Mrs. C. I. Richards and Mrs. Allan Hasbrouck, reported that the decision to provide milk for the smaller children had been made after consulting Mrs. Richards, as school nurse, also Dr. Carl Meekins. Milk had a greater nutritive value, more palatable and easily digested. That children soon

tired of soup and cocoa. It was advised that one pint a day be given the pupils in the first three grades. It was moved that P. T. A. vote $25 toward milk and start providing it daily. It was said that Lloyd Post, American Legion, would add $10 to the sum being raised, and it was hoped other organizations would contribute in order that the time would be extended as long as possible for the benefit of the children needing it. Mrs. Vincent Gaffney spoke for Court Nilan with the assurance that that organization would contribute also. It was voted to contribute $2 toward the Red Cross appeal for funds in the county. There had been an appeal for old muslin to be used in the school in lieu of handkerchiefs and some had been brought in. Mrs. Luther Kilkins and Mrs. Barnaby were the committee appointed to receive any donations for such purpose. The publicity book, carrying all notices of the local organization, had not been received and Mrs. Elmer Randall was appointed by the president as custodian of the book. The treasurer, Miss Martha Benesh, reported $54.27 on hand at the last meeting and the expenses for November had been $5.60, and she had received in from the recent card party, giving a balance of $103.47. At this time she had handed her $20.25 as more returns from the card party. The executive committee suggested that a Christmas gift of $2 each be made to the janitors for the extra work incurred by the P. T. A. meetings. This was moved adopted, but it brought the question as to whether the motion made last year of one dollar a month being given the janitors carried through the life time of the P. T. A. locally or was in effect for one year. The reading of the motion of last year carried no time limit and was construed to be for the period of the year in which the motion was made. Mrs. Irving Rathgeb as chairman of the Finance committee reported the sum of $70.25 cleared from the recent card party, and moved that thanks be sent from the organization to Principal Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wilkow, Clifton B. Carpenter and the donors of gifts.

Mrs. James Swift explained that the Parent-Teacher Association had purchased some five years before a flag which spends a month in the grade that receives the greatest number of votes at the monthly meeting. The paper is passed at each meeting and each one present votes his preference. This time it is the 7th grade that will have the flag.

Miss June Reynolds, supervisor of music, announced that it was a custom in many places to sing carols at homes where a lighted candle was placed in a window and she was arranging to carry out the idea here on the evening of December 22, with the Glee Club of the school. On the return the carolers would go to the school where cocoa would be served. Mrs. Heston Woolsey had offered to be chairman of the committee assisted by Mrs. Arthur B. Merritt, Mrs. Matthew Busch and Miss Marian Williams.

Miss Ruth Goldsmith announced the program opening with the Christmas message by Father Charles Rizzo. He prefaced his remarks with the preparations a parent makes for his children. In home, garments, toys, and their plans in and for the school that assist in preparing the child for life but how often there is a lack of Christian preparation. He attributed much of the crime as due to the absence of Christian teaching in the home. Parents should not teach Christmas as once a year but a daily coming of the Christ child, not paying respect to the Saviour at Christmas and Easter but the daily living and example in the home where Bible teaching depends on the home as Sundays bring but an hour at the most. He considered the example and teaching was badly needed. At the conclusion he asked that some booklets against Communism be distributed and read, then passed on. It was vital that people should be informed and able to combat the inroads of the menace.

Miss Reynolds led the musical program of Christmas songs by four little girls who sang, "I Saw Three Ships Sailing." Nancy Rathgeb as accompanist and June Schantz, Shirley Filkins and Betty Wilcox the singers. piano solo, June Schantz, "Wooden Nymphs." "The First Noel" was sung by Betty Wilcox, June Schantz and Nancy Rathgeb, with Shirley Filkins playing the accompaniment. "Way Up North" was sung as a solo by June Schantz with accompaniment played by Betty Wilcox. "Angels Chanting All Around Us" was sung by the same four young ladies with a duet accompaniment played by Betty Wilcox and June Schantz. Five pupils from the sixth grade taught by Mrs. Ernest Tamney, sang two carols: "Silent Night" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem." They were Shirley Filkins, Anna Anzevina, Leonora Constantino, Daniel Kurtz, Anthony Altizio. Following these numbers there was general singing of the Christmas songs led by Miss Reynolds with Miss Ruth Goldsmith at the piano. The large assembly room was used and had been trimmed with Christmas greens and lighted candles were placed in the windows.

At the conclusion the large audience was invited to the homemaking room where coffee and sandwiches were served by Miss Cayrina Colombe, Mrs. Matthew Busch, Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Mrs. Carrie Atkins, Mrs. James Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burke, Mrs. Fred Boyce, Mrs. Borquist, Misses Martha Benesh and Marian Barry.

"Sports and Safety" is the subject of the January meeting with Miss Frances Williams, Clarence W. Rathgeb, Willard Burke, John Crowley, Sergeant Lockhart as the committee. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. D. S. Haynes, and all officers were present.

BOYS' DIVISION AT "Y" BEING REPAIRED.

Members of the Boys' Division at the Y. M. C. A. will be glad to learn that the long hoped for repairs and refurnishing project is now under way. Work on the wainscoting has already begun and the painting and laying of the linoleum will be undertaken within a few days. These will complete repairs that have been sorely needed for some time. After these essential repairs have been made, it is the hope of the boys' work committee to proceed with its refurnishing project. This will all be done in colonial style. An effort is being made to create an old colonial effect in all the improvements and refurnishing.

Funds for these necessary improvements are from special sources outside of the regular Y. M. C. A. budget and are not quite sufficient to do all the work planned but it is hoped that there will be additional gifts added to those which have already come in voluntarily to assist with the project.

Although a very commendable program has been carried on at the

Y. M. C. A. for the boys, it has been done under difficulties of late because of the lack of facilities. The improvements in the boys' division will really give the boys an attractive environment, which the boys' secretary and boys' work committee consider very essential. The marked increase in the boys' memberships have cramped the facilities of both the boys' division and the physical department and it is hoped that possibly in the near future auxiliary room may be found by making some alterations to the "Y" auditorium.

Work on the boys' division will be pushed, hoping to have the work completed by New Year's when the rooms will be thrown open for public inspection. In the meantime, the department will necessarily have to be closed but arrangements will be made to carry on the boys' gym and swim classes and club meetings the same as usual. On account of the repairs to the game rooms, boys are requested to use the "Y" only at their regular club meeting time until the repairs are completed.

Payrolls in Texas increased 9.1 per cent this October over the corresponding month a year ago.

HOW TO CHECK LOOSE DANDRUFF AND SCALP ITCHING

When your clothing is showered with loose dandruff scales, it's time to do something about it. Skin specialists say that excessive dandruff is one of the important causes of hair loss.

Two things can be done to check loose dandruff:

First, shampoo once a week (or often if necessary) to keep the scalp free from oiliness or crusting, using a rich lather of mild Resinol Soap and rinsing thoroughly.

Second, fine-comb the scalp twice weekly so as to remove loose dandruff scales. Then part the hair carefully and apply Resinol Ointment to the scalp, rubbing it in gently. Persistent use of this treatment for a reasonable time usually brings pleasing results.

Kingston Artillery Gun Will Salute at Lehman Ceremony

Albany, Dec. 16 (Special).—A gun brought to Albany from the 156th Field Artillery Battery at Kingston, will be used New Year's Day to salute Governor Herbert H. Lehman when he again takes his oath of office to serve for another two years as head of New York state. The gun, which is 75 m. m., will fire a salute of 19 salves, at the time Governor Lehman takes his oath at the inauguration ceremonies January 1.

Invitations to the inauguration of Governor Lehman are now being mailed from the office of the Department of State, and included in each is a card requiring acknowledgment and indication of the recipient's intention to be present at the third inaugural of Governor Lehman.

This will enable Secretary of State Flynn to arrange seating accommodations in the limited capacity of the Assembly chamber, in the state capitol, where the ceremonies will take place. Already requests for tickets are pouring into the department and every effort will be made to take care of the huge crowd. Invitations are being sent to members of the legislature, congressmen, heads of state departments, members of the judiciary, the board of regents, and others high in the official and political state circles.

Despite the fact that the military ball on New Year's eve has been dispensed with, the inauguration will not be without its usual military display. Brig. Gen. Walter G. Robinson, adjutant general, is completing arrangements to the end that a mounted escort from Troop B, 121st Cavalry, will accompany Governor Lehman from the mansion to the state capitol shortly after 11 o'clock on New Year's Day.

Major General William N. Haskell, commanding officer of the National Guard, and Rear Admiral Frank R. Lackey, commanding officer of the Naval Militia, each accompanied by three aides, will be in attendance as well as escorts from three of the oldest honorary military organizations in the state. These will consist of details of seven men each from the Old Guard of the city of New York, distinguished by their tall fur shakos; the Veteran Corps of Artillery of the city of New York and the Troy Citizens Corps, all representative in colorful uniforms.

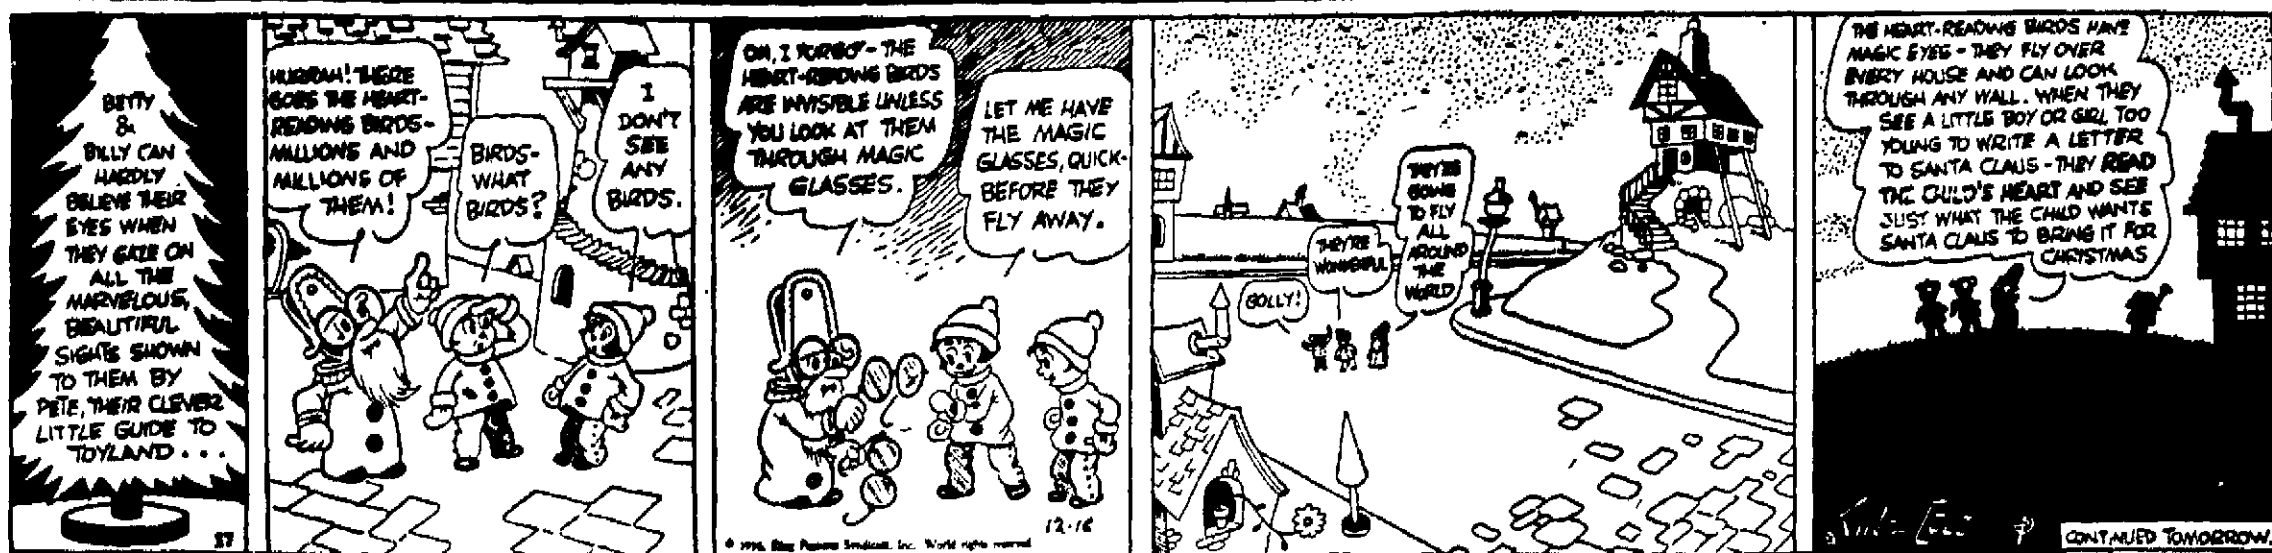

Governor Lehman's personal escort will include his secretary, Walter Brown, and his military staff headed by Adjutant General Robinson.

Library Trustees Meet December 10

Woodstock, Dec. 16.—A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Woodstock library took place in the library, Thursday, December 10, at which regular business of the board was transacted.

In addition to approving reports of the various committees, the board considered the necessity of repainting the floor of the library, but decided it would be unwise to undertake the expense at present. The board was informed by Bruno Zimm that the Woodstock Historical Society is planning to hold a celebration in the spring and that various organizations of the town of Woodstock have been invited to send delegates to a general meeting to be held in the near future. Mrs. Edwin Schoonmaker was appointed to represent the library at this meeting.

In response to general demand it was voted to keep the library open one evening each week. Wednesday evening being chosen as most convenient. The hours will be from 7 to 9 o'clock.

A regular meeting of the book committee was held in the Woodstock library on Monday afternoon, December 14. Members present were Mrs. W. O. Thompson, Miss Gabrielle Moncure, Mrs. William Moncure, Miss Elsa Kimball, Mrs. Norman T. Boggs, Mrs. Edwin Schoonmaker and Miss Alice Owen.

A cut crystal pipe tobacco humidor is decorative and functional.

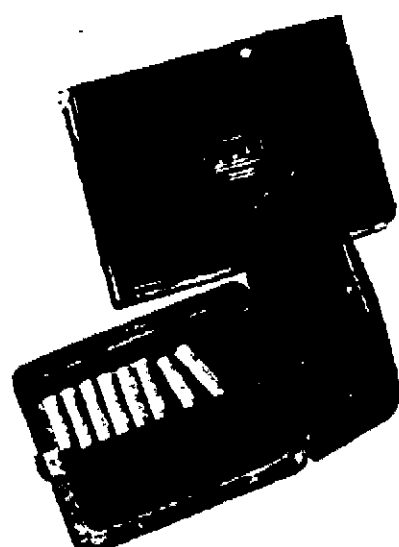

A chrome pipe rack that the late Chico Sato might have called a "four holder."

This modern crystal and walnut pipe tobacco humidor also provides room for four pipes.

Two lighters that function without wick or flint.

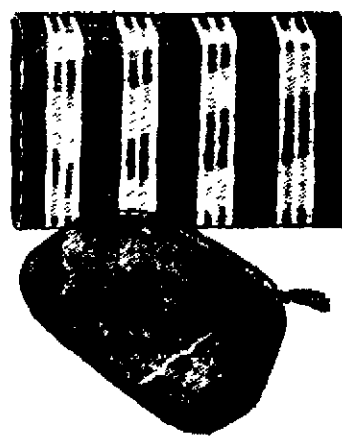

A modern cigarette case of metal and enamel is smartly personalized by three initials on its cover.

Traditionally smart is the sign, seal or monogram cigarette case that is fairly flat and carries twenty cigarettes.

SMOKER'S DELIGHTS

The smoker is fair game for the gift giver. Whether he favors cigars, cigarettes or pipes, there are literally thousands of gifts, smart in appearance and fascinating in their ingenuity that will please him. If he smokes, your gift problem is pretty well solved. Check his favorite form of the weed and give him a generous supply of the particular brand he swears by, or give him something with which he can light, puff through, carry or store it.

You might choose either one of these two tobacco pouches with impunity. The top one is regimental striped silk rep with an oiled silk interior, while the other is of leather with talon closure and is streamlined.

A desk lighter which has been combined with a clock, and a cigarette lighter and case which is particularly appropriate and practical for use with formal clothes.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

When New Zealand turns out postage stamps they generally prove to be distinctive. The latest set is no exception.

It commemorates the recent congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the British empire held at Wellington. Individually the stamps depict some of the principal industries of New Zealand.

Let's take a look at each of the designs. The lowest value, the half-penny green, as well as the two penny halfpenny blue, concentrate on wool. On the halfpenny, a truck loaded with bales of wool is seen just as it comes to the top of a hill. In a small frame in the upper left hand corner is another aspect of wool, a shearer clipping the sheep's coat. The two penny halfpenny shows a flock of sheep being driven down the road, while in the corner frame is an enlarged sheep's head.

The red penny stamp pictures the dairy industry, using the head of a cow and a scene in a creamery.

The next subject is apples, on the four penny purple. In the small frame is a New Zealand beauty encircled by a fruit-bearing branch of an apple tree. The large scene is in an apple packing plant.

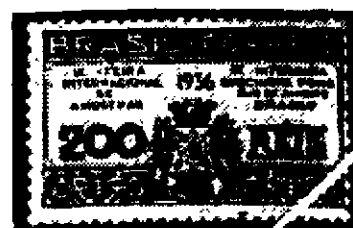

Finally, there is the all-important shipping. A modern freighter is shown unloading at the dock, with that symbol of commerce, a sailing vessel of the early days, in the corner. This stamp is a six penny brown.

Brazil's Sample Fair

Brazil decided that the design

used last year for the stamp issued during the international sample fair at Rio de Janeiro was just the thing, so it is being repeated for this year's exhibition.

It bears the emblem of the fair, with a face value of 200-reis. However, there is a change in color. The new one is red. Last year it was blue.

World Stamp Glimpses

Germany—Stamp exchanges between German and foreign collectors are now subject to official approval under an edict of the German control department of foreign currency. The supervision department has ruled that stamps are to be regarded as merchandise and that exchange will be permitted when the monetary balance is to the credit of the German collector.

South Australia — Approximately $500,000 worth of collectors' items were assembled for the Australia philatelic exhibition at Adelaide, with a total of something like 30,000 stamps prepared for display.

Austria—Austria's annual issue which pays tribute to some field of human endeavor this year is to honor inventors and technicians. The set will contain six values.

France—For a special sheet of four stamps to be issued next spring in connection with the "Pexip" exhibition at Paris, France is to reproduce four values from its first issue.

Sgypt—The King Fuad stamp of the large format, printed in green and valued at 3 millimes, has appeared bearing the inscription "Army Post."

$150,000,000 Is Advance Guard of Dividend Checks

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—Postmen throughout the nation carried today checks representing the $150,000,000 advance guard of one of the greatest seven-day dividend distributions in the history of American industry.

Within the week, in the form of extra, increased and regular dividend checks, $530,000,000 will find its way through the mails to many thousands of shareholders.

That represents about one half of the nearly billion dollar year-end disbursement by corporations unloading the purse strings as a result of steadily increased earnings and federal taxation on undistributed corporate profits.

Analysts hesitated to estimate that portion of the vast mealm which will hit in the last few days of Christmas buying. Some predicted it would be fairly large.

They looked, also, to heavy re-investment of the unexpected, windfall funds. Much of it, they thought, will find its way back, in one form or another, into industry in new capital for plant expansion and creation of wider business channels.

Delivery Today

Today's mail deliveries included some of the choicest morsels of the banquet. Among them were the $28,000,000 Chesapeake & Ohio Railway payment, $22,000,000 divided by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., and $23,000,000 from the coffers of Chrysler Corp.

Checks totalling $25,000,000 from Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, $19,000,000 from Standard Oil of Indiana, and $10,000,000 from the Sun Oil Co. went into the post today. J. C. Penney Co., chain of department stores, has $11,727,000 in the mailmen's hands.

Later this week will be mailed $6,200,000 from Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., $4,347,000 from Anaconda Copper Corp., a $13,000,000 regular disbursement by the Pennsylvania Railroad and a $21,000,000 split by General Electric Co.

Simple Rites for August Generich

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP)—A simple, impressive White House funeral service was held today for August "Gus" Generich, personal bodyguard and close friend of President Roosevelt, who died suddenly in Buenos Aires December 2.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt, Vice-President and Mrs. Garner, and all members of the cabinet in Washington attended.

Shrouded close by the flag-covered casket surrounded with scores of floral pieces, were wives of cabinet officers, Charles Gutrie, brother-in-law of the deceased, and Augustus Gurnee, nephew, both of New York, and Generich's co-workers at the White House. The services were in the executive mansion's East room.

The Rev. Dr. G. E. Leavelle of the Grace Lutheran Church, officiated, saying the man, whom the President called a comrade, was a "friend and loyal public servant."

Soft string music played as the President and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt took their seats.

Two White House policemen stood beside the bier.

Accompanied by James Roosevelt, the body later was placed on a train heading for New York at 11 o'clock.

Masonic services were planned for a o'clock tomorrow night at 123rd street and 6th avenue, New York. Burial will take place Friday morning in the Lutheran cemetery at Middle Village, Long Island.

County Firemen Approve Report

Committee Appointed to Draft Proposed Law Requiring Fire Escapes on Boarding Houses and Hotels. Submit Report at St. Remy Meeting.

Several months ago the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association took up the question of making boarding and rooming houses and hotels more safe for patrons by being provided with fire escapes, and a committee consisting of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, Attorney Roscoe Elsworth of Port Ewen, Chief Charles G. Fisher of Ellenville, Chief David Hilson of Poughkeepsie, Chief Edward Maimes of Port Ewen and Ellis Briggs of High Falls, was named to draft a proposed law.

At the meeting of the association held Tuesday evening in St. Remy, the report of the committee was read by Chief Murphy, and unanimously approved by the association. The proposed law provides that any boarding house, rooming house or hotel with ten or more bedrooms shall be equipped with fire escapes. This proposed law will be whipped into final shape and presented to Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Conway with the request that it be submitted in the legislature to be enacted into law.

It had been planned to hold the meeting last night in Firemen's Hall, but it proved too small to accommodate the attendance and was held in Red Men's Hall instead. Great interest was displayed at the business meeting and the report of the secretary showed 31 companies represented in the association.

Following the business meeting a moving picture, "The Fourth Alarm," was shown by the St. Remy fire department, hosts of the evening. The March meeting will be held in this city with Cornell and Rescue Companies acting as hosts.

HEM AND AMY.

Causes of Fire, Comforter Topic

Tuesday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Church of The Comforter Men's Club featured Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy as speaker, with William Geary assisting.

The fire chief opened his remarks with a brief description of "what our taxpayers are paying money for." He touched on the fire alarm system, explaining the way in which it worked, and then sighted instances where, due to faulty connections, the local department was late in answering a fire. These conditions were pointed out as a serious hazard and are scheduled to be checked carefully and the necessary repairs made. The fire-fighting equipment was also mentioned as being quite adequate to meet the type of fires that occur in this section.

Chief Murphy next spoke on fire in the home. He told of the various ways in which fires will start and usually what course the fire will take in burning, and made a special point of the idea that each person should plan just what he would do if he awoke in the night and smelled smoke. The idea that a fire gave no one time to sit down and map out a plan of campaign, was offered by the local chief, who gave his listeners the impression that the local fire department had advance plans of fighting fires in most of the large buildings in this city, should such a conflagration occur.

A demonstration was given on the various ways a fire might start. The effect of gasoline vapor coming in contact with flame was shown, and the "dust explosion" that spreads fire that might occur in a grocery warehouse was illustrated by lifting cornstarch towards the floor and bringing a flame close to it. The resultant flash of fire left no doubt as to what could happen if a warehouse fire should start. Another demonstration had to do with the flash that will result from certain fabrics coming into the range of an open fire.

The fire chief told of several methods that were used in fighting fire, making the point that ventilation was important in modern fire-fighting because of the presence of so many gases. The resultant gases that come from fires today are the worst enemy of the fireman. To put the fire out, its source should first be ascertained, and this oftentimes necessitates entering a gas-filled building which is liable to explode, causing serious injury or suffocating the fireman.

In closing his remarks, the speaker stated that while hours of work are a bit better for the fireman today, still modern contrivances make the job of the fire laddie a rather trying occupation.

The business session of the Men's Club was next on the program. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in Charlie Kelse, president; Kenneth Lowe, vice president; Henry P. Elgin, secretary; Paul E. Barnum, treasurer. Three new members were received, and various business matters were disposed of.

BY SIGRID ARNE

zen just ducked his head and flew through the gates and into the throne room.

Nils and Captain Buttons were sitting alone beside Gudrun. The ice queen was still away chasing the magic roses which the fairy queen was sowing across the snowy fields of the North.

The ice melts away. In a twinkling the elves had a good fire built at the foot of the ice-block in which Gudrun slept. The flames licked the ice, and drop, drip, it melted away. First her feet were free, then her little pink hands, and finally after half an hour the last piece of ice cracked away and Nils picked up his little girl grudgingly in his arms. He spoke to her and kissed her curls, but she lay limp.

"Oh," cried Nils, "she must wake up. What shall I do?"

"Let's get out of here first," said the practical Captain Buttons. "The ice queen may come back. We can wake Gudrun back in Toyland." So the whole party climbed on Blitzen's back again, and he flew through the night sky so high that the elves picked a bag full of stars as they flew.

hoped that the holiday weather will favor of a yule-log hunt. There is almost certain to be skilling on one or more of the trails, which Arnold Wiltz has cleared and prepared for use. Mr. Wiltz reported that two new trails are being added which will considerably lengthen the skilling season.

"Pep-talks" by Arnold Wiltz and Leon Carey, former president of the Association fired the membership with enthusiasm for sports in the coming season. Work done last year will place this year's activities a few steps ahead, but as there are new fields to conquer, new work to be undertaken in an attempt to enlarge the sports program there is still an urgent demand for volunteers for numerous duties that keep the program running smoothly and efficiently.

Junior League Presents All Clinic Equipment to City

The Junior League of Kingston which has maintained a health station for children for several years in the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street, adjoining the Central Fire Station, has presented the entire equipment to the city. The gift has been accepted by the mayor with the thanks of the city. The health station will be used by the children's clinic to be established the first of the year by the state health department, and will be in charge of a part-time physician, two trained nurses and a clerk, whose salaries will be paid by the state, the city furnishing simply the rooms for the clinic and the heat and light.

Letter of Presentation

In presenting the equipment, Mrs. Ella M. Arnold, president of the Junior League, wrote Mayor Heiselman the following letter:

In accordance with the agreement made between the Junior League of Kingston, the mayor of the city of Kingston, and Dr. Frank W. Laidlaw, district health officer, whereby the Board of Health is undertaking a Child Health Survey, we are desirous of aiding this splendid program, and to this end wish to present to the city of Kingston, the Junior League's Health Station, including all equipment and files as of January 1, 1937.

We wish at this time to express our profound thanks and sincere gratitude to your Honor, the Board of Health, the Board of Aldermen and all other municipal authorities who have so graciously assisted us in the past. Particularly are we thankful for the use of the rooms in the Municipal Building.

Cordially yours,
THE JUNIOR LEAGUE OF KINGSTON, N. Y., INC.

By Ella M. Arnold,
President.

Mayor's Reply

In reply Mayor C. J. Heiselman wrote the following to Mrs. Arnold: My dear Mrs. Arnold:

I acknowledge receipt of your very kind letter of recent date, presenting to the city the various properties and equipment of the Junior League Health Station for use in the municipal bureau of child hygiene which will be established in your quarters in the municipal building on January 1. This generous action on the part of your organization will result in a saving to the local taxpayer who will now be relieved of the expense of purchasing this equipment.

It must be a source of gratification and satisfaction to the members of the Junior League to know that years ago they had the wisdom and understanding to discover an acute welfare problem and the ambition and energy to undertake the solution of that problem which now has grown to such proportions as to warrant the expansion of its program on the part of the city and state governments. The Junior League were pioneers in child welfare in this community. Your work focused public attention on the important problem of child welfare. Having established the enterprise on a sound working basis, we now assume the responsibility of broadening the scope and expanding the effectiveness of the program in a manner quite beyond your financial ability to undertake.

In the notable and unselfish public service which you have thus rendered you have my personal gratitude and the cordial thanks of all citizens of this city interested in health and happiness of mother and child.

I sincerely hope that the Junior League will give the same loyal support and service to the child hygiene bureau during the coming years as it has to its own baby clinic in the past. I have arranged to appoint Mrs. Leon Chambers, of your organization, a member of the advisory committee of the new bureau in order to insure that the Junior League will have a voice in formulating the policies of the new organization. With your continued assistance, we hope to discharge our responsibilities to the mothers and children of this city with the same degree of helpfulness and effectiveness as has characterized your work throughout the years.

In conclusion, I wish to assure you that in any new public welfare enterprise in which you may engage you will receive in the future from me, the entire city government and the residents of Kingston, the same support and cooperation which you have so deservedly received in the past.

Eating a Solemn Occasion

Among the Ohio Shakers, eating was a solemn occasion. As they held practically all their property in common, with the exception of personal belongings, they would eat together in one dining room, which resembled mess halls for large institutions. A horn was the signal for the men to file in one side and the women in the other, while the sister waitresses entered from the kitchen. When all were in, they knelt for silent prayer, after which they pulled benches to the long tables and sat down. After the meal, they arose in unison and filed out of the room as they had entered, without saying a word.

Deported in Death

William the Conqueror died in St. Germain monastery, outside Rouen, France, more than 800 years ago. Immediately, his physicians rushed away in panic to safeguard their property while servants looted his strong boxes and royal furnishings and, leaving the king's naked corpse on the floor also fled. When the body was finally carried to St. Stephen's Abbey, which King William had founded, authorities would not permit it to be buried there until 60 shillings had been paid for a grave. This was the end of the conqueror who gave three whole towns in Gloucestershire to his court jester, Berdrie, just for making him laugh.

WOMAN WOUNDED AS G-MEN RAID IN NEW YORK

Rattling gunfire disturbed the quiet of Riverdale Drive, New York, when police and federal agents led by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of G-men, captured Harry Brunette and his wife in an apartment house (above, right). His wife (shown on stretcher) was seriously wounded. The 25-year-old desperado is wanted for a series of bank robberies and for the kidnaping of a New Jersey State Trooper. (Associated Press Photo).

After his wife was seriously wounded and he had emptied two pistols in resisting federal agents and New York police, Harry Brunette, 25 (above), wanted for bank robbery and kidnaping, surrendered to the raiders in a New York apartment house. (Associated Press Photo).

Brunette Is Held In Trenton, Unable To Raise Bail Today

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 16 (AP).—Harry Brunette, charged with kidnaping State Trooper William A. Turnbull, was arraigned secretly at noon today in the local office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and committed to Mercer county jail in default of $100,000 bail.

Announcement of the arraignment before United States Commissioner Marvin A. Spaulding in the private office of Special Agent Earl L. Richmond on the fourth floor of the Federal Building was made after Brunette had been whisked out of the building by deputies.

Brunette, wearing a brown suit and a brown overcoat, waived a hearing on the complaint which charged violation of the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

"Public Rat No. 1"

New York, Dec. 16 (AP).—J. Edgar Hoover, head of the "G-men," today designated as "Public Rat Number One" Merle Vandebush, 29, asserted bank robbery and kidnaping pal of Harry Brunette, who was captured here yesterday after a bomb and gun battle with Department of Justice Agents, police and New Jersey State Troopers.

Brunette, under charges ranging from kidnaping to bank robbery, was removed during the night to Trenton, N. J.

"Vandebush," said Hoover, "is the only kidnaper since enactment of the Lindbergh law who remains free. We have captured or killed all others."

The head of the federal bureau of investigation said that Brunette had confessed to the kidnaping of New Jersey State Trooper William A. Turnbull on November 11 and the armed robbery of three Wisconsin banks in the last five months, implicating Vandebush in all crimes and his wife, who was captured with him, in the kidnaping.

"In the popular terminology," Hoover said, "Vandebush would become public enemy number one. He and his kind can never be more than public rats to us."

"Vandebush succeeds to the title forfeited by Brunette yesterday when he was taken."

"So far as I can learn, the fellow we took yesterday was the quieter and tougher of the two men, although sometimes these quiet guymen fool one."

VETERANS' CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN

Joyce Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will make plans, Thursday night, at its regular meeting for the Christmas tree party to be held in the Dugout, East Chestnut street, Friday night at 7:30. Members are asked to bring to the meeting or send gifts of toys, candy, oranges for the kiddies' Christmas party, which Commander J. Green hopes to make one of the biggest and best ever held by the post.

An easy way to keep crackers crisp and dry is to erect a shelf over the radiator or register and keep the cracker box on it.

administrator, said in a statement today that while the WPA is reducing its expenditures as the result of a statewide survey, "there is no intent to discharge any persons who are in real need."

"Any statements as to the number of persons to be employed are not authentic," Herzog said. "WPA is working on a basis of dollars allocated."

"The total number persons is flexible within the dollar allotment. It may become necessary also for WPA to close some projects because there are not sufficient relief workers to operate them. This is particularly true in the rural communities."

Herzog explained that effective January 1, WPA funds would be allocated on a monthly basis and that these funds "are not sufficient to provide employment for the total number of persons working on the WPA as of November 28, 1936."

The administrator said a 15-month survey of the state's 62 counties "proves conclusively that in certain counties, the number of relief cases have decreased." "As high as 50 per cent," WPA employees are assigned from relief rolls. While he said he expected "some errors" would be made as a result of the survey Herzog asserted that all cases of "persons in real need who are discharged will be reviewed upon request and if the findings of the investigator are wrong, the persons so discharged will be reassigned to WPA."

"The WPA is also discharging persons who are shirkers or will not work," he continued, but said this was a permanent WPA policy.

$200.00 REWARD!

Charles Beauty Salon, 306 Wall street, and 79 Partition street, Saugerties, will pay to any person $100 who will help or lead us to the person or persons who are circulating false rumors about us and especially against myself personally, with damaging results.

In my 10 years of business activity in Beauty Work, it has been my policy to use the latest model equipment and give service and value in my specialized salon. Because of this we have progressed from a small room shop to one of the largest businesses of this kind in the Hudson Valley. We serve over 2,000 customers from all parts of this county and do over 1,500 permanent waves a year.

For that reason it is my duty and right to protect myself and business by law from any one who willfully circulates any false and damaging rumors about my business or myself personally.

Also we will pay $100.00 to anyone who will prove to us that there are hairdressers in his city who say that they do "Harper Method" work. There is only one authorized "Harper Method"

shop in this city. Therefore any person who says that they do "Harper Method" treatments, shampoo, facials, etc., are false, because no person can give Harper Method treatments other than the HARPER METHOD SHOP, where Harper Method Creams, Lotions, Shampoo, and other preparations are used exclusively.

Further, no hairdresser is allowed to use the words "Harper Method" either by word of mouth or in any advertising not connected with the shop. Because any hairdresser who worked in a Harper Method shop is under contract signed by them that never in any way, manner or form, can they use the words "Harper Method". If they do they are breaking their promise and contract and are being sued by the Harper Method shop for breach of contract. The words and Method of "Harper Method" is the sole property of HARPER METHOD SHOP.

Therefore, it is my duty and right to protect myself from any person who willfully intrudes on the Character and Reputation of Harper Method System.

Mayor's Boxing Committee Has Office in the Auditorium Now

Boxing, under the direction of the Mayor's Industrial Committee, has grown to such proportions, that all business concerning the sport will be conducted hereafter from an office in the municipal auditorium.

Arrangements for an office in the city building were completed Tuesday, and now a telephone has been installed there for the reservation of seats. The number is 3718. Patrons desiring to have their seats saved may call between 9 a. m. and 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Heretofore reservations were accepted at the American Legion Memorial Building, through the courtesy of Commander William T. Roedel and Lester Barth, custodian, but the boxing business has grown to such an extent that it interfered with basketball reservations at the Legion.

For the past two years, the Legion has worked on a paying agreement with Frank Morgenweck, operator of the Kingston Colonials, representatives of this city in the American League.

In order to avert any conflict or inconvenience, the boxing interests moved to the auditorium, where patrons may call now for their seats, many of which have been sold already for the bouts Friday, December 18, featuring Norm Rubio, Anacram Bearcat, against Harris Blake, champion of the Niagara Division A. U. lightweights.

Talk among fight fans indicates a lot of interest in this match, a return go between the two who fought a sensational battle two weeks ago. They were re-matched because some disagreed with the decision of the officials. They awarded the fight to Blake.

The Buffalo lightweight won on his boxing ability. Those who liked Rubio, thought he should have won because of his hitting power. The Anacram Slugger hopes to turn the tables Friday with a knockout.

Three local boys are scheduled to appear in preliminaries, Joe Pincus, the Forst Packer, against Hank Jakowski of Poughkeepsie; Tommy Zano, Glasco Italian, against Johnny Pulver, Max Mones's 140-pounder from Anacram, and Alex Cashara, another Glasco boy, against Sammy Popp of Poughkeepsie.

There are seven bouts in all on the card, the first of which will start at 9:30 o'clock instead of earlier, on account of Christmas shopping.

Seating arrangements in the Auditorium for the fights will be in charge of Dick Williams, custodian of the building, and a corps of ushers from the Board of Public Works as in the past, and the American League ring will be used through the co-operation of the ex-servicemen at no cost to the city.

Funds raised by boxing go to the fund used to promote industry in Kingston.

Worf Quintet Has Its New Uniforms

The Worf A. C., newly organized basketball team, received new uniforms yesterday. They are purple and white, with a large W on the front of the jersey. John Worf is boxing manager and soon will seek deals with teams in this vicinity.

New Haven, Conn.—Abe Coleman, 295, Los Angeles, defeated Nick Campofreda, 216, Baltimore, (Campofreda defaulted because of injury after each won one fall.)

Providence, R. I.—Steve (Crusher) Casey, 235, Ireland, defeated Nick Stahl, 215, Germany, two straight falls.

Boxing Shows Signs of New Life From Heavies Down to Bantams

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—From the bantamweights to the heavyweights, the fight business is showing signs of new life.

The heavies have been holding the headlines for the last few weeks, with the talk of a Jimmy Braddock-Joe Louis no-decision bout at Atlantic City; the hullabaloo over the final signing of Braddock to defend his crown against Max Baer, and Louis' quick knockout of Eddie Simms. However, champions and contenders are keeping things moving in four other divisions.

The middleweights are next on the program with Harry Balsamo, the "Hitting Brakeman" who was considered a great title prospect until he was beaten by Babe Rinko, meeting Brooklyn's Solly Krieger at the Hippodrome tonight.

Krieger, a fair boxer and a pretty good hitter, is rated a 7-5 favorite, but Balsamo still has his punch, and is determined to crash it against Krieger's jaw. Then he wants to knock him again.

Current plans, however, call for the winner tonight to face Fred Atwood, the highly regarded San Francisco middleweight who is due in New York shortly after the holidays, with the prospect of that match to encounter Champion Freddie Steele, also due to head east early in 1937.

The heavyweights move into the picture again Friday when Max Baer, champion of Gold Division, N. Y., meets Bob Turner in a bout billed for the New York state title. Turner's opponent, the winner will be lined up with Joe Louis.

Morgie Worried About Visitations Tonight

Frank Morgenweck, whose Colonials won two games over the week-end, seemed worried this morning about his clubs' clash with the Brooklyn Visitations tonight.

Kingston played good ball defeating Philadelphia and the New York Jewels over the week-end," Morgie said, "but I'm worried about Old Man Jinx at home tonight. We should be able to take over the Visites, because the Colonials are clicking."

Phil Rabin, high scorer of the Morgenweckers, made 25 points at Philly Saturday and 15 at Brooklyn against the Jewels. He is in the midst of a big scoring spree and is one man the Visitations will have to watch tonight.

Yankees Win Team Achievement Honors For World Series Play

Horton Smith Tops All Golfers for '36 With $7,884.75

Coral Gables, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—Lanky Horton Smith topped golf-dom's money winners of 1936, with total winnings of $7,884.75.

Records of the P. G. A. disclosed today Smith edged out Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis by $202.34.

Only $1.41 separated Guldahl and the third biggest cash collector, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., whose winnings totaled $7,681.

Playing in 22 tournaments, Smith won two—the Augusta National and another at Victoria, B. C.—and finished seventh or better in 15 medal competitions.

Included in the blond, 28-year-old Chicagoan's winnings was $500 of the special $1,000 team prize offered by Col. Henry L. Doherty for three P. G. A. members from any one district who had the lowest aggregate score for the recent Miami, Baltimore and Nassau opens. Winning with Smith were Harry Cooper, who collected $290, and Ky Laffoon, $200.

After the top three—Smith, Guldahl and Picard—the money winners of 1936, were:

Harry Cooper, $7,443; Ray Mangrum, $5,935; Jimmy Thomson, $5,927; Jimmy Hines, $5,599.22; Gene Sarazen, $5,480 (including $1,800 won in foreign tournaments); Bryon Nelson, $5,429; Johnny Revolta, $4,735; Densmore Shute, $4,317; Tony Manero, $3,929.22; and Ky Laffoon, $3,532.

Only Manero, Shute and Sarazen participated in less than 18 tournaments, and Hines and Guldahl in fewer than 20. Macdonald Smith, playing in nine, won $2,172. Willie MacFarlane, winner this week of the Nassau (Bahamas) open, collected $2,933 in 11 times out.

W. Lawson Little, Jr., won $1,755 in nine tournaments since he turned professional at Augusta last April. Walter Hagen played in 19, won $1,292, and Sam Parks, Jr., 1935 National Open champion, completed in four to draw $266.

Tabulation of the poll follows, with points tallied on 3-2-1 basis:

1. New York Yankees, world base-ball champions	179
2. Minnesota football	107
3. U. S. track and field squad, Olympic champions	62
4. Louisiana State, Southeastern football champions	25
5. Great Britain, National pro football champions	12
6. American Polo Team, Olympic champions	11
7. New York Giants, National League baseball champions	11
8. Detroit Red Wings, National hockey champions	6
9. Detroit Tigers, baseball	6
10. Southern California, football; 1932, New York Yankees, baseball; 1933, New York Giants, baseball; 1934, St. Louis Cardinals, baseball; 1935, Detroit Tigers, baseball.	5

Previous poll winners: 1931, Southern California, football; 1932, New York Yankees, baseball; 1933, New York Giants, baseball; 1934, St. Louis Cardinals, baseball; 1935, Detroit Tigers, baseball.

Now that Joe Louis, the Detroit Bomber has expressed a willingness to meet the winner of the Impellerre and Pastor match, scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Friday night, those two battles are working harder than ever in their eagerness to be returned winner in the tilt that means so much to both fighters.

Impellerre has been after Louis for some time. In fact he was matched to meet the sensational new recruit in California some time ago but for some reason or other the bout fell through. The Imp is confident that he will defeat the Pastor fighter on Friday evening and then for a match at the hard-fisted batter from Detroit.

Another Trophy for Larry Kelley Today

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—Yale's Larry Kelley, who already had a good many important football trophies, was set to receive another today at a luncheon of the Downtown Athletic Club.

Kelley, scout of honor, was to be awarded the Sherman trophy, a gold football helmet, for his leadership in the team's victory over the University of Chicago in the championship game.

The honor statue of a player in action, named for the late John Sherman, was presented to Kelley by the Downtown Athletic Club.

Coach Kias stressed the various styles of passing to the different varsity squad groups and emphasized the use of this vital means of attack.

Assistant Coach Whiston lectured the seconds on the necessity and importance of correct timing of offensive plays. With four weeks of daily practice behind them, the squads will undergo an intensive finishing process and strenuous daily drills will be in order. Another in the series of informal tune-ups is slated for this coming Friday afternoon against the Five Fingers, who are expected to press the varsity five much more closely than did the previous opponents.

Games with the traditionally powerful Saugerties High five on Tuesday, December 22, and the home opener with the Alumnus on November 29 are on tap for the Klaxmen in their Christmas tide schedule. The time-honored opener with the customary top-notch array of varsity talent will extend the Klaxmen to the limit. Coach Cahill has another one of his flashy units going through their paces at the university school.

Back After Talent

The Alumnus contest on December 23 will be the initial contest staged on the local boards and all graduates and former members of K. H. S. long squads who have participated in past seasons are requested to contact Eddie Rock, last year's leader, as soon as possible. Alumnus combines in the past have been a review of the local school's case greats and Alumnus Captain Rock expects to make a strong effort to organize the team. The old squads are expected to rally to the cause and in order to insure participation are once again requested to contact Eddie Rock.

Maroon Varsity Scrimmaged With Jayvees Tuesday

The Kingston High School camera entered into the final phases of their pre-game practice period yesterday afternoon by indulging in a prolonged series of scrimmages at the Municipal Auditorium. Coach Kias inaugurated preparations for the opener with Saugerties on next Tuesday by ordering a major skirmish between the varsity combine and a junior varsity unit.

The Maroon and White first-stringers lined up with Charlie Bock and Sloat Rowland up front and Phil Fertel and Captain Ed Bahl operating from the guard slots with Tommy Maines controlling the tap. This aggregation showed plenty of potential scoring power during the short period it operated before Bill Meagher and George Riffenbary replaced Rowland and Fertel. Captain Bahl flashed downcourt to unleash several neat dunks and Charlie Bock was in top-notch style. A number of fundamental rough edges need to be polished before the Maroon's opener at Saugerties, but the squad is rapidly approaching actual contact form.

Assistant Coach Dick Whiston unveiled a starting lineup in the second team camp that consisted of Jess Shultz and George Fatum at the forwards, Lindhurst center and Mann and Grothkopf, guards. Making their first start against their bigger brothers, the Jayvees showed evidence of unharnessed tension which handicapped the maneuvers. Lack of timing and natural inexperience caused many lighter moments in the course of the afternoon's drill, but continued tutelage will develop the usual formidable junior varsity squad. Jay DeWitt and Bob Marocco replaced the starting forward combine and substitutions were made in wholesale lots as the scrimmages progressed.

Seniors to Play in League at the "Y"

Tuesday night, during the senior gym class at the Y. M. C. A., a suggestion to form a house basketball league was favorably received.

Twenty-two members were present and the following four were chosen to act as captains: Wisniewski, Ed Minasian, Nizen and Louis Port.

Leo Wisniewski selected Myren Van Buren, William Costello, John Caprotti, Andy Celuch and Babe Cahill.

Ed Minasian chose Jerry Danu, Al Townsend, Hess Kantowitz, Al Flanagan, Leon Miller, Bert Street and Chipe Rhymer.

George Nizen picked Don Boice, Bing Van Etten, Walter Hubbard, Jim Maroon, Bob Cullum and L. Spencer.

Louis Port's team consists of Don Kelly, Pete Schline, Meyer Baach, Chet Baltz and Davis.

Other regular attending members will be added to these teams or if enough are available will form new teams. Each team will play at least one game each season, consisting of two 7 minute periods. League games will start on Tuesday, January 5, 1937, and will be played on succeeding Fridays and Tuesdays.

It is hoped that other Y. M. C. A. will compete with Kingston. If such games can be arranged the team leading the House League on the scheduled date will represent Kingston, thus giving each team an opportunity to play in outside competition.

New or old senior members wishing to take part in the House League please contact Chuck Henke, physical director, before January 1.

Canadian Indians Cling to "Big Canoe" Legend

The remnants of the Indians in the country surrounding Cape Trinity and Eternity, the high points on the Saguenay river, cling to the ancient belief that the ark or, as they term it, "the big canoe," rested on the top of Cape Trinity, 2,000 feet above the level of the river which skirts its base, and was placed there by a flood which inundated the rest of the earth, destroying all life thereon, only the families of worthy Indians, as well as pairs of the various animals and birds, being preserved by the Great Manitou, whose guiding hand landed "the big canoe" on the last bit of earth left uncovered by water.

The Indians also have a legend, states a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer, which bears considerable resemblance to the casting of Satan and his rebellious followers out of paradise. According to the Indian tradition, the Great Manitou cast the "fallen angels" over the precipice of Cape Trinity. All met death in the river below with the exception of the leader, who was so strong that the fall of 2,000 feet only crippled him.

As this "angel" gathered strength he became the demon of the river, wrecking canoes, drowning peaceful Indians and wreaking havoc in general.

Mayo, the father of the Indian race, decided to seek and vanquish him in a hand-to-hand encounter. The battle between the two was terrific, Mayo swinging the demon around his head and against the rock of Trinity with such force that the three great gashes in the mountain resulted from the contacts, as the tradition continues. Finally Mayo was victorious, crushing out the life of the demon and thus restoring peace and quiet to the beautiful waters of the Saguenay.

Commons Study Letters of Rebuke

London, Dec. 16 (AP)—Under a deluge of letters from constituents protesting the archbishop of Canterbury's censure of former King Edward, members of the House of Commons delayed today into the affairs of the British Broadcasting Company.

The BBC, government-controlled radio monopoly in England, broadcast the address Sunday by the head of England's Church, rebuking the departed monarch for his desire to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson as a violation of "Christian principles of marriage."

The Archbishop also excommunicated the now Duke of Windsor's circle of friends whose ways of life he called, "alien to all the best interests of his people."

(Reports from Ennsfeld, Austria, where the abdicated king is in self-imposed exile said he might reply to the Archbishop, depending on the outcome of the parliamentary discussions.)

Many of the letters received by members of Parliament from their home districts termed the Archbishop's broadcast "un-Christian." Disapproval of the radio speech indicated a reversal of sympathy on the part of many of Edward's former critics when he abdicated his throne rather than renounce his love for Mrs. Simpson.

Some objections were heard not only because of the Archbishop's attitude but also because his speech was delivered after Windsor had left the country.

The Commons examined internal conditions of the BBC and it was believed a general debate would provide an opportunity for members who might want to question whether the prime's address had prior cabinet endorsement.

Edward Has No Financial Worries

London, Dec. 16 (AP)—Whatever might account for former King Edward's despondency, it is not financial troubles.

As long as he lives and as long as the monarchy survives in England, informed sources said today, the Duke of Windsor will be wealthy enough to buy chateaus, yachts, or almost anything that might attract his eye.

As principal heir of his grandmother, the late Queen Alexandra, wife of King Edward VII, he received a fortune estimated as high as £1,000,000 ($5,000,000).

Well informed sources say his inroads into that fortune have been negligible.

Although the Duke of Windsor has lost the annuities he received as king from the Duchy of Cornwall, it was understood his brother and successor, George VI, was preparing to settle £25,000 ($125,000) annually on him from the Cornwall income.

Such a sum would be exactly what Edward gave George before he abdicated.

Roosevelt Travels Over 100,000 Miles

Washington, Dec. 16 (AP)—Back from the Argentine, President Roosevelt chalked up another 12,000 miles in his traveling today, carrying the total of his presidential journeys past the 100,000-mile mark.

Many here believe Roosevelt, in his first term, has set a new record for presidential travel, outdistancing both William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt.

His major journeys included a 1934 trip to Hawaii by way of the Panama Canal; a 1933 trip to the Pacific coast and back through the canal; this year's campaign trip into the west; and his drouth inspection tour, extended to Salt Lake City for Secretary of War Dern's funeral.

Will Not Recognize

London, Dec. 16 (AP)—Great Britain does not intend to recognize Italy's annexation of Ethiopia, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden stated flatly in the House of Commons today. His declaration came in answer to a question from Eleanor Rathbone, independent member of the House.

No More "Courts of The Air," Is Ruling

New York, Dec. 16 (AP)—Free legal advice broadcast to the general public either through newspapers or over the radio, was banned today in a decision by the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court.

Effective immediately, the ruling forbids attorneys to answer questions of law or give an opinion through "a publicity medium of any kind" whether compensated or not.

"Any attorney who violates this rule," the court decision stated, "shall be deemed to be guilty of professional misconduct" and subject to disciplinary action.

The decision followed a complaint against the employment of attorneys in the so-called "Good Will Court of the Air." Objections raised by the County Lawyers Association were based on the assertion that numerous opinions rendered were based on insufficient statements of fact.
